Detailed Day-by-Day Itinerary

DAY 1	Marrakech – Majorelle Garden – Old Medina – Bahia Palace – Jewish Quarter – Saadian Tombs – Jamaa El Fna Square

Majorelle Garden Your tour begins with a visit to the renowned Majorelle Garden, designed by French artist Jacques Majorelle. You'll explore the lush greenery, exotic plants, and vibrant blue buildings that make this garden a true oasis. The garden is also home to the Berber Museum, where you can discover the rich heritage of Morocco's Berber culture. Berber Museum After strolling through the garden, you'll visit the Berber Museum located within the property. Here, you'll delve deeper into the fascinating traditions and artifacts of the Berber people, Morocco's indigenous inhabitants. Old Medina and Traditional Lunch Next, your guide will lead you into the heart of Marrakech's Old Medina, a vibrant hub of traditional markets and narrow alleyways. After exploring the medina, you will stop for lunch at a local restaurant where you can indulge in authentic Moroccan cuisine, including tajines, couscous, and fresh salads. Bahia Palace After lunch, you will head to the majestic Bahia Palace, known for its beautiful courtyards, colorful tiles, and intricate wood carvings. This 19th-century palace offers a glimpse into the grandeur of Moroccan royalty. Jewish Quarter (Mellah) Following your visit to Bahia Palace, you will explore the Jewish Quarter, or Mellah, known for its unique charm and historical significance. You'll learn about the Jewish community's role in Marrakech's history and visit local synagogues and markets. Saadian Tombs Your next stop will be the Saadian Tombs, which date back to the 15th century and showcase the architectural mastery of the Saadian dynasty. These tombs are an essential piece of Marrakech's cultural history, housing the remains of royalty. Jamaa El Fna Square The tour concludes at the famous Jamaa El Fna Square, a lively cultural hub where you'll witness street performances, musicians, storytellers, and food vendors showcasing Moroccan arts and heritage. This bustling square is the heart of Marrakech's vibrant atmosphere. Return to Hotel After a full day of exploring Marrakech's most iconic sites, you will be driven back to your hotel, concluding your unforgettable day in the Red City.
